Acalanes Welcomes Parent 'Students'

Seniors Ask 'Under-Dogs' to 'Get Out'

"Get out before we throw you out!" Have you, the class of '58, ever heard this before? You probably worden by the control of the class of '58. ably wonder why these seniors rate having the main hall.

A few years ago the students of Acalanes came to the thought that by the time we reach our senior year, we should be allowed some privilege such as a place to gather the tore school and at moon. Setting before school and at noon. Setting aside the main hall from the cafeteria to the offices for this purpose was felt to be a good solution.

What have colleges done about senior privileges? In high schools you might receive some privileges, but in college the seniors really rule the lower classmen. Freshmen are the lowest form of life, and hazing is quite frequent.

But here at Acalanes we don't have as much of a caste system as do colleges, in fact your main privilege as a senior is having Senior Tradition has established that at Acalanes the seniors shall have the main hall and can use almost any means to remove those new fresh-men and lower classmen who think it is cute or smart to crash the hall. Thank you — the seniors.

Council Probes P.A. System Use

How would you like to have a P.A. System to announce all home A and B basketball games? It was suggested at the last council meeting, and we just might get it. It would announce the plays, scores trophy.

and names of the players.

On the subject of basketball, Bob
Roberts recommended that we have entertainment during half time of both A and B games, and Red Jones is going to investigate as to whether or not we can have a little kids basketball game, pos-sibly between Montecito and Vallecito grammar schools.

Kyla Houston, co-chairman of the March of Dimes campaign, "Teens Against Polio," announced the dance on January 14, in our gym, with all proceeds going to the March of Dimes. The local merchants donated prizes to make the dance a success.

Last Act of Christmas Program on Television

On December 31 the Acalanes Modern Dance Group traveled to station KOVR in Stockton. Under the direction of Millicent Hamburger the fourteen members of the dance group performed the last act of the Christmas program, The Nativity Scene.

John Bohn, our Student Body
President, narrated the program while the Stage Crew went to see how the television studio operated.

Those who danced on Lynn Taylor's program were Bitsy Burns, Nancy Richard, Jeanne Galbreath, Sally Freedman, Lynn Cowling, Hope Davidson, Kathy Vale, Judy Alson. Cathy Greub, Elly Gardner, Roberta Miles, Sue Adair, Pat Whitehead, and Marilyn Day.

Statesmen Journey to Diablo Convention

Those Acalanes students journeying over to the Junior Statesmen convention at Mt. Diablo last Saturday were Gordon Fowkes, Doug Parker, Walton Chenney, Kirk Barnnette, Margaret Netherby, Russ Mjiolsnes, Dave Van Daff, Mike Pon, and Charles Schorr. "Should We Blockade Red China to Insure the Freedom of the Thirteen American Airmen?" was the topic of a panel discussion held at last Tuesday's meeting.

"ARE YOU SURE we're both talking about the same Herman?"

Dons Prepare For Science Competition

With April 15 rapidly drawing near, Acalanes science enthusiasts are busy preparing for the second annual Bay Area Science Fair.

In last year's fair, Acalanes students won two top awards out of the nine given to senior participants. Winning in the individual tenth grade boys division was Robert Cooper, who prepared an exhibit on Long Range Television Reception. Two senior boys of last year copped the group exhibit

The science department reports that currently preparing for this year's fair are Pete Chiesa, Doug Krotz, and Sheldon Carroll. Other Acalanes students are also getting things together for the fair.

This year's fair will be held at the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park, running the week of April 15

Even if you are not science minded you would enjoy traveling to the fair to view the nearly one thousand exhibits expected.

Music Building to Be Up by March

Have you been wondering what going to be? Well, by the end of February or the beginning of March, we will have completed a music building. This building is already 75 per cent of the way finished.

It's going to be quite a change from the cafeteria, which was used before as the music building. The rooms that will be included are: a band room, with a storage room for the instruments, a choral room, also having a storage room for the also having a storage room for the uniforms, eight separate practice rooms, and a music library for sheet music. For less noise, each room will have sound proof walls.

From now on the cafeteria will be free from all classes. According to Mr. Walgren there won't be any new buildings for quite some time.

Various Vocational Panels Will Be Held

On the following dates vocational panels will be held.

January 18th, 4th period, Agriculture; January 20, 2nd period, Writing and Journalism; January 25, 3rd period, Dancing; February 3, 4th period, Clothes Designing, and on February 8, 3rd period,

Parents Invited to Benefit Forum

Aware of the plight of under-privileged peoples of India, Aca-lanes students, together with money earned in last year's foreign policy forum sponsored by the Acalanes Education Association, have just completed sending $400 worth of plows, tools and books to India through CARE.

The second of this year's for-ums "U.S. Foreign Policy — What Now?" will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Acalanes cafeteria. Discussion topic will be "Problems of Aid, Trade or Development." Two remaining forums are scheduled for February and March.

Proceeds from admission, $1.00 for the remaining three forums, will be sent to aid indigent people of Asia and provide a future teacher award for an Acalanes and Las Lomas student Lomas student.

Pictures depicting the use of last year's forum proceeds to aid underprivileged people of India are now on display in the library showcase window.

Parents in particular are encouraged to attend. The series is sponsored by the high school teachers association.

Teens Against Polio Are Busy School Group

"Teens against polio," that's the slogan for the MARCH OF DIMES drive that started January 3rd and lasts until January 31. This drive is for the teenagers of six Contra Costa County high schools: Acalanes, Las Lomas, Pleasant Hills, San Ramon, Diablo and Alhambra.

The campaign is sponsored by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Chairman for the county high schools campaign is Beverly Benson of Acalanes. Kyla Houston is secretary for the Don campus.

The committee has worked out a brand new angle to promote this drive. Instead of collections, they are having activities in which students can participate. Such as the dance held Friday, the new twist was 99 cents per couple and 74 cents stag. There were drawings for prizes. These prizes were donated by the merchants of Lafayete and Orinda. The dance, incimusic of Jack Kennedy's band, according to Priss Myers.

No special goal is set for this campaign, but those who help support the drive are thanked by the Acalanes Don's committee Nancy Long, Mike Laurenson, Pat Stevens, Kyla Houston, Beverly Benson and all student body officers.

Mothers, Dads Go Back to School

With the entire faculty, Parent Club officers and many students on hand to help you through your "Back to School Night" adventure, Acalanes High School bids you a warm official welcome to the Don

Perhaps you're not aware of the history or tradition that has built up around this school in the past fourteen years. Here's a brief rundown on how it all came to be:

Did you know that the original name of our school was taken form a corly. Spanish land grant superintendent.

Neal M. Parsons, in the summer of 1945, became principal and District Superintendent of Acalanes. A year later, lights were put on the football field and an electric score board of latest design was added.

In the fall of 1949 plans were under way to add classroom wings to give us a larger study hall and a new library. Year by year, Acalanes has grown in student and facwith last year's enrollment of 1075 students.

Juniors To Present Superior Ostentation

According to the calculations of Gary Williamson, Junior class vice-president, who is in charge of the gay ostentation, it will be the most sensational assembly yet.

Karen Jacobson, class social secretary claims it will top all pre-retary claims it will top all previous attempts.

Tryouts will be held tomorrow and all acts are still top secret, although it is known that they will be wrapped around the central theme of a G.I. on a three day pass.

'Night of Jan. 16' Stars Rupley, Camp

A murder has been chosen for the Senior Play this year! The play, "Night of January 16th" will be presented in the auditorium on March 17th and 18th.

The reason that this play is so different is that the jury of twelve will be chosen from any adults in the audience who wish to particitate. They will be given in hear pate. They will be sworn in, hear the case, and decide the final ver-

In the leading roles are John Bohn as District Attorney Flint, Pat Camp as Karen Andre, Bill Rupley as defense attorney, Mar-cia Miilu as Magda Svenson, and Ann Lee Smith as Nancy Lee Faulkner. Something new will be tried this year in presenting the Senior Play on two consecutive nights. Tickets will be two colors.

It is hoped that this will avoid the extremely crowded auditorium that we had last year at the play and also the year before.

Representatives of

Colleges to Be Here Soon With the selection of a college on the minds of many seniors the counseling department has arranged for college representatives to come to Acalanes.

Mr. A. P. Donoghue, who is Director of Admissions at the University of San Francisco will come will come to Acalanes.

"All seniors," warns Mr. Ross,
"are advised to complete their applications for college as soon as possible at the start of the second semester." Mr. Ross also states that students who are planning to attend state colleges should see their counselors as to the details By all means it promises not to be a "run of the mill" assembly.

And Awa-ay They Go!

LEAVING ACALANES this midterm are, left to right, Deril Hill, Phil Condit, Carol Casorla and Gearil Hill. These four have completed high school requirements including the recent ruling that seniors must have two semesters of senior problems. Deril plans to enter the service; Carol hopes to study at business school; Gearil expects to go to work as does Phil Condit, whose last year graduation was delayed by a semester long illness.

HIM

Biography of an "Introvert"-Mssr. Michael Ballachey – Alias Bellyache

This week the staff has chosen Mike "Bellyache" Ballachey to entertain you, the student body, with a very brief review of his life.

Mike was born in Lansing, Michigan. Having restless parents he moved to Washington, then Alameda, again to Washington, back to Alameda and finally made it to Lafayette where he has been since the fifth grade.

In case you wonder where Mike got his well known nickname, "Bellyache," Mr. Weiss, who could never quite pronounce "Ballachey," stumbled upon it one day and it has been Mike's "title" ever since. Another of his great nicknames is "The Hairy Greek" which he has been called for obvious reasons. He is hairy and of Greek ancestry.

In the sports field "Bellyache" goes for swimming, but can't participate in it this year because of ear trouble. He enjoys playing any sport and has demonstrated his capability by participating in basketball and volleyball at noon time.

The "Greek's" likes include fishing, Dixieland jazz, quiet blondes, good movies, good food, Mr. Stewart and "a few unmentionables." He has only one bad habit.

He dislikes the senior girls and obnoxiously loud women.

He dislikes the senior girls and obnoxiously loud women.

Among Mike's exciting experiences is the time he illegally drove his 1929 Model A, four door sports sedan about the campus. His only comment was, "Wow! did Mr. Stewart get mad!"

After "Bellyache" graduates from high school, he plans on attending Cal, where he wants "To join a frat and have a ball." After two years of this sort of thing Mike plans on joining the Air Force and then completing college when he gets out.

Mike's last request was, "I want all the chicks to know I'm free

HER

Carbon Monoxide Holds No Threat for Diana Kercheval-Local Strongarm Girl

Few people have accomplished in four years what Diana Kercheval, our Student of the Week, has accomplished in two years.

Diana was born in Southern California and lived in San Gabriel until she was a sophomore in high school. Then she moved to Orinda, where she now lives.

Due to hours spent pushing Mike Ballachey's Model A, Diana has acquired an immunity to carbon monoxide. If the Russians should invade us and use carbon monoxide, at least one person will be left!

In her junior year Diana worked on the Junior Prom, she was in the Junior Assembly, and was quite a "cat," Spanish Honorary Society, and was quite a "cat," Spanish Honorary Society, and C.S.F. At the end of her junior year she was chosen for the Dance Group and ran for Girls' League President. This year she is in the Dance Group, Secretary of Spanish Honorary Society, Vice-President of C.S.F., and a member of the Ski Club and G.A.A. This is quite an accomplishment for only being at Acalanes for two years.

When Diana was asked what she liked, she replied. "Dance, our open halls, even in the rain!

when Diana was asked what she liked, she replied, "Dance, our open halls, even in the rain!, and Northern California." "I wouldn't go back to Southern Califrnia for anything!" However, she dislikes big boys, but only those who act like little ones, and girls who gossip about each other. She is still a little bit afraid of the dark because her brother used to tell her that there were tigers under her bed.

After Diana graduates she plans to attend the University of Cale

After Diana graduates she plans to attend the University of Colorado and go into nurses training, although after discussing some of the duties of nurses, she didn't seem to care for a few of them! Oh well, we all can't enjoy the better things of life!

Take A Good Look

Welcome to Acalanes. We hope you'll take advantage of "Back To School Night," and become acquainted with our school, our teachers and our education and activity program.

This school, everything in it and everything about it, is a monument to your desire as parents to give us the best educational opportunity our community can afford.

We know that once you have observed the school in action, as you will partially tonight, you'll realize as we do that Acalanes represents the best.

Take a good look.

P.S. Unofficially we hope tonight will sharpen your appreciation of the TOUGH row we hoe in trying to keep up with the high performance demands of our profs.

THE I CAN GRIPE LOUDER THAN YOU DEPT. THE I CAN GRIPE LOUDER THAN YOU DEPT.

There has been so much complaining about the advertising in this paper that I can't believe it. So—in case you were wondering why we have so much—it's not that we enjoy selling ads, it's just that it costs approximately $230 to put out a good issue of The Blueprint. Where do we get said sum? You're right—we get it primarily from our advertisers and subscription sales. Maybe you suggest that we raise rates. Well, since the building of Las Lomas in Walnut Creek there are fewer advertisers and when the new Orinda High School is completed, there will be even fewer. Consequently, we are lucky to get as much as we do. much as we do.

much as we do.

If you would like a six page paper every two weeks without ads, just give us $2,920 and we'd be glad to put one out. Adless, too. Now perhaps you're thinking about last year's six pager? Since then, printing rates have climbed upward . . . you know, the cost of living, etc. Anyway, we hope that you realize that the size of the paper and heavy number of ads is beyond our control, and our budget!

I think that the Teens Against Polio campaign could be given a great deal more support. It is a cause well worth our while to get behind. We could just have an ordinary collection of money in advisories, but instead we are offered the opportunity to raise it ourselves through various activities. Speaking of various activities. . . Mr. Stewart's proverbial "BLACK LIST" (which includes, alphabetically, of course, Ballachey, Freeman, Gudnason, Kops, Wahl and Wold) would like to challenge the faculty to a game of basketball and give the proceeds to the March of Dimes. But, the only catch is that Coach Stewart isn't so sure he could dig up a team to play these terrors of the hardwood. Well, we have found you an argument and are under no obligation to find you a solution. (FLASH! We were just informed that they want to play the Junior Girls—so, no solution is necessary.)

I was thinking of something that Dr. Norman Vincent Peale wrote that makes so much sense and especially right now at our age. He said, "Do not be awestruck by others and try to copy them. Nobody can be you as efficiently as you can be." I am inclined to agree. Aren't you? Anyway, that's the way it goes.

Our Dean of Boys Is Just As Concerned About Females As Males

FLASH!!! Attention all you girls who would like to remain on the best side of a certain male instructor at Acalanes. If so, let your hair grow and get rid of your gum — right away. The reason — this man's pet peeve seems to be short, short hair and girls that snap gum. This instructor — none other than Mr. Stewart, Dean of Boys.

Dropped down the chimney by old Mister Stork on August 31, 1921, Mr. Stewart has resided in California ever since. Berkeley and Lafayette are the only two towns which are able to lay claim to him for he has lived in the East Bay all his short??? life (well, kinda short anyway). He even went to school; the schools being University High and the University of California at Berkeley.

Somewhere along the great wide way, the boy scouts caught his interest and he was transformed into an obedient boy scout. In fact, one of the best times he ever had was when, as an eagle scout, he attended the first Scout Jamboree in 1936 at Washington, D.C.

From the time he attended Cal until now, football has remained his favorite sport, although he likes them all. At college, he played halfback when he was a frosh and also still interested in sports, which can readily be seen at any of the vari-ous student vs. faculty games. He's in all of 'em.

Caught by the army, he landed in Normandy and enjoyed Europe very much. So much so, he'd like to return on his own time (maybe someday anyway). An old married man, our Dean of Boys has three children, May, Dave, and Bob plus 1947 was THE YEAR of his arrival at Acalanes. Since then he has taught U.S. History and Senior coached the swimming and football teams for two years,

Many Cool Lads And Lassies Bop At Seniors Fling

Hot ziggety and away we go! Yes last Friday, January 7, the Senior class gave their version of the roaring twenties in the annual Senior Extra. The title of that nifty drag was "Flappers Fling," and it was under the direction of Mary Mat-

Emporium Will Sponsor Regional Art Exhibition for High School Rembrandts

Trying to beat last year's record of five key award winners and fourteen merit winners, Acalanes art students are working to enter the unusual Scholastic Art Awards contest.

All the art students in junior and senior high schools of Northern California will have an opportunity to work for recognition of their talents by participating in this contest, sponsored regionally by The Emporium, San Francisco, in co-operation with Scholastic Maga-zines. The Emporium will receive the entries for this territory and will present the exhibition of se-lected entries in the store from February 19 until March 5.

Every pupil participating in this project has an opportunity to win honors for himself and his school in the regional exhibition. After that show, the key-winning pieces will go to Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh, where they will be judged by national juries of artists

Almost every phase of pictorial, graphic, and advertising art is included in the Scholastic Art Awrads. Entires may be submitted in oils, water colors, sculpture, and ceramics, crafts, and photography.

Entries must be sent to The Emporium during the week of January 31, and no later than February 5.

A's Clean Up on Livermore Five

Unstoppable was what people were saying in the Livermore High School gymnasium last Tuesday afternoon. The reason they were saying this is because the Acalanes baskethall team was in the process. they were not unbeatable the other basketball team was in the process they were not unbeatable the other night in the Mt. Diablo gymnasium when they lost the final game of the evening of the U.C.L. tournament. They lost to Mt. Diablo 33-23. However, the West won 123-120. The high scorer for the Dons was Red Jones with 10, Tim Freeman with 6, next was big Joe Sheaff with 6, and Bill Link finished out the scoring with 1. The high point man for Diablo was Sid Smith who put up 14 points, Jim Brooks also
